Creswell School District and the Lane County Sheriff's Office invite parents and community members to attend an informational overview of ALICE protocols that will be taught to District staff this winter.

Strong school systems are vital to every community. A good school system provides quality education, creative inspiration, and healthy social engagement. But a good school must also, at its core, ensure safety for its students. Instructing students on safety measures not only protects them from possible danger but also instills confidence and self-reliance.

Addressing safety issues gives a community assurance in its schools and can strengthen the system and the community at large.

The ALICE Training Institute offers nationally recognized solutions to prepare teachers and students how to respond to an armed intruder.

ALICE training for K-12 schools relies on age-appropriate curriculum developed by Co-Founder Lisa Crane and peer-reviewed by an advisory board. Lisa draws from her extensive background as a special education teacher, general education teacher, school counselor, principal, and child therapist to ensure that all curriculum, drills, and messaging are psychologically sound.
